Affairs in the First Ward

Disgraceful Fight-Bad Boys-Funeral of Mr. Norton-Election-Improvement-Advertising-Judges of Election.

FIRST WARD, May 25. MESSES. EDITORS: A most disgraceful fight took place in this Ward yesterday, in which a young man was severely injured. As the parties have been arrested, and the matter is to undergo a judicial investigation, I shall suppress their names for the present.

Notwithstanding the promptness of our police officers, it seems to be a difficult matter to keep the boys in their place. Nearly every night a lawless gang assemble at the West Market, or on the principal corners of our streets, and annoy the neighborhood and passers-by with their offensive and indecent language. Our vigilant officers are ever ready and willing to do their duty. and I feel confident that they will turn their attention to this intolerable nuisance.

The Independent Order of Odd-Fellows, of this Ward, turned out in strong numbers to attend the funeral of the unfortunate young Norton, whose death was noticed in my letter of yester-

As the time approaches for holding our election, the contest becomes more animating, and the friends of all the candidates are urging their claims in the strongest terms. This is all well enough; but I think they should not so far forget themselves as to give credence to charges of a personal nature, fabricated from selfish and sinister motives, which are designed to injure the reputation of other aspirants for office.

We are pleased to learn that our respected fellow-citizen, James W. Sheahan, esq., who has heen laboring under a severe indisposition for the last ten days, is much better, and that a prospect of a speedy recovery is entertained by his friends.

Joseph B. Moore, esq., has recently enlarged and otherwise improved his drug store.

We have three fine dry-goods stores-Messrs. Johnson's, Sutton's, and Williams's-all of which seem to do a good business. Enterprising merchants always advertise, as it is a safe guaranty for success; and I am somewhat surprised that more merchants do not avail themselves of the columns of your spirited paper. Advertising is the surest criterion whereby you can judge a business man.

At a joint meeting of the two Boards of our Corporation, the following gentlemen were appointed judges of the election: Samuel Drury, Chas. A. Davis, and J. W. Sheahan, esqs. There is some dissatisfaction manifested on the part of some voters as to the legality of the appointment of one of the gentlemen; but I presume our City Fathers were well posted on that subject.

Is the Mississippi Closing!

For the last two or three years the great subject of alarm at New Orleans has been the encroachments of the river upon the dry land—or upon the levees by which the land is kept dry—and the occurrence of numerous crevasses, threatening the city with the double ruin of permanent inundation and the diversion of the river from its present bed. We now hear of a new evil of an opposite charac-ter—the talk being of the closing of the Mississippi by the accumulation of mud at its mouth, in relation to which we have published some interesting par-ticulars from the New Orleans papers. The subject is one of national concernment. No mere physical change could be imagined likely to prove more calamitous to the States which occupy the great valley of the West than a permanent obstruction amounting to anything like a closure of the river. The accounts, certainly, look serious; and it seems impossible to read the statements relative to the narrowing of the channel of the Southwest pass, the shallowing of the bar, and the growth of the "mud lumps" on which so many ships are now sticking fast, without believing that a radical change is taking place, and the Mississippi falling into the category of the Rio Grande and the other rivers of the Gulf of Mexico, the mouths of which are more or less blocked up by bars that forbid the passage of all but the smaller classes of vessels. Nevertheless, there is reason to trust that the alarm is, after all, a false one-that the evil which exists will only prove a temporary one. * From the very nature of things, the Mississippi is liable to perpetual changes from year to year, in the banks and bars at its mouth; but in the in the banks and bars at its mouth, out in the banks at its mou proves, these changes amount to little or nothing. Unusual deposites may take place one year in consequence of the opposition of the gulf tides not being sufficiently counteracted by the current of the river. But next year, a heavy flood sets all right again; and the Mississippi does its own dredging effectually.—North American.

TAYLOR & MALERYSO Protection from Lightning.

Protection from Lightning.

THE undersigned, being the duly appointed Agent of Sprart's Electrican and Electrometry, begs to offer these superior Rods, of Spiral-twisted, Carbonized Annealed Iron, with Zine Protectors, and Electro-positive elements combined in their manufacture; thus rendering them equal to copper as conductors. They are in ten-feet lengths, with meeturately-fitted brais-screw connecting joints, an entire new style of metallic (patented) attachments, for brick or frame buildings; also, glass isolaters, of a novel and ingenious construction, (patented.) forming a lock; the whole mounted with a solid platinum silver point, (patented.) twelve inches long, surrounded at the base with three angular negative magnets, which possess the power, to an extraordinary extent, of discharging the opposite elements of the most fearful thunderstorm, and embrace the entire perfection of science up to the present time; the whole constituting the most magnificent and perfect silent conductor ever presented to the public.

Safety has not been compromised by affording these excellent rods at such low rates; the greatest attention has been given to their construction, so as to be readily attached. The astonishing power of the negative magnets, in discharging the air of its opposite elements, has been clearly demonstrated by the Electrometer, when unmagnetized points have shown but slight results, though placed under the same conditions. In fact, they gather and silently discharge electricity from the atmosphere when you would scarcely suspect any being present.

These improvements being secured by double letters patent, you are hereby cautioned against laying yourselves liable, by purchasing of those who are not authorized, or who are substituting inferior imitations. All agents duly appointed can show their certificates. Have good rods or none.

CHARLES W. HEYDON, none.

I do hereby certify that I have app lied various powerful chemical reagents to Spratt's Patent Points for Lightning-Rods, and that the results of these experiments convince me that they will resist the action of atmospheric causes, and thereby preserve the extremity sharp—a condition most essential to protection against lightning. The reagents used in the above experiments were a solution of chloride of codium, (common salt.) acetic acid, sulphuric acid, and hydrochloric acid. With the first, there was no action on the metal; with the several acids, there was very slight—a fact sufficient to show that atmospheric influences would have no sensible effect.

Chicago, September 3, 1850.

This may certify that I have examined, somewhat critically, James Spratt's Patent Lightning Rods, and that I am of opinion that it is constructed on scientific principles. For combining durability, cheapness, and efficacy, I deem it equal, and I think superior, to any other rod eyer offered for my inspection.

for my inspection.

Augusta, (Ga.) November 11, 1850.

This will certify that I have examined the Lightning Rods, Metallic Points, and Isolating Attachments, manufactured by Mr. Spratt, and regard them as constructed in conformity to the general laws of the electric fluid; and the metallic compound constituting the Points, as promising, from the result of several tests to which they were submitted, to resist for years the action of those atmospheric causes most likely to corrode them.

A. MEANS,

The Lightning Conductors put up by Mr. Henry M. Smith.

Pharm., Medical College, Ga.

The Lightning Conductors put up by Mr. Henry M. Smith, of this city, on the plan of Mr. Spratt, appear to me to be very well devised; and, in point of mechanical construction, are the best I have ever seen.

It is to be hoped that the use of these Rods may become general, as an important auxiliary defence against a danger which must be regarded as of no ordinary magnitude, to which all buildings are liable.

Villa HOGYDS.—His institution w situated in WILMINGTON BOARDING SCHOOL FOR BOYS.—This institution is situated in one of the healthiest parts of the city of Wilmington, en-tirely beyond the settled portions of the town. The un-form healthfulness of the location may be inferred from the fact that, since the establishment of the School, about form healthfulness of the location may be inferred from the fact that, since the establishment of the School, about twenty-eight years, very few cases of serious indisposition have occurred among the pupils, and not a single death either here, or from diseases contracted while here.

The course of instruction includes, besides the ordinary English branches, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Physiology, History, Rhetoric, the various branches of Mathematics, and the Latin, Greek, and French Languages. Particular attention is paid to the higher Mathematics and their application to Mechanics and Engineering; the latter and Surveying are taught practically by field operations, with the use of appropriate instruments. Lectures on Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, in which all the important principles are illustrated by experiments, are regularly delivered before the students.

As the object is to make the instruction as thorough and practical as possible, no expense has been spared in providing suitable apparatus. It is believed that, in this respect, the Institution will compare favorably with any similar one in the country. A carefully selected library, of more than one thousand volumes, containing works on the various branches of Literature and Science, furnishes ample reading matter; while a Laboratory, fully supplied with apparatus and tests, contains all that is necessary for practical instruction in Chemical Manipulation.

The school year commenced on the third Second-day (Monday) of the Ninth month, (September,) and is divided into four quarters of eleven weeks each, leaving a vacation of two months, from about the middle of the Seventh month (July).
